DIGITAL MARKETING

OVERVIEW

Search engine optimization (SEO) which is a part of the broader topic of Search Engine Marketing (SEM), refers to techniques that help your website rank higher in organic (or "natural") search results, thus making your website more visible to people who are looking for your product or service via search engines.

So, why is it important for your business website to be listed on search engines? On Google alone, there are over billion searches conducted every second. Think about that. Every second that your website is not indexed on Google, you are potentially missing out on hundreds, if not thousands of opportunities for someone to visit your website, read your content, and potentially buy your product or service. Practicing SEO basics, as well as more advanced techniques after those, can drastically improve your website's ability to rank in the search engines and get found by your potential customers.

KEY APPROACH

- Business Research and Analysis
- Website Analysis
- Keyword Research and Analysis
- Competitor Research and Analysis
- Content Optimization
- On-page Activities
- Sitemap Submission
- RSS feed inclusion
- Search Engine Submission
- Directory Submission
- Social Book Marking
- Press Release Submission
- Article Submission
- Assessment & Monitoring
- SERP Report

BUSINESS BENEFITS

- Cost-effective Customer Acquisition: There is no payment to the search engines for being indexed. This is important for high volume, low intent phrases which can be expensive in paid-search (e.g. 'car insurance')
- Fixed Costs: The cost of SEO is relatively fixed, independent of click volume. Effectively, the cost per click from SEO declines through time after initial optimisation costs and lower ongoing optimization costs. Conversely, paid-search is essentially a variable cost
- Brand Visibility: Think about that search on 'car insurance'. The big insurance companies are all desperate to make it onto the first page of Google. The ones that didn't make it either need to buy PPC ads to be seen, which is expensive for such a competitive search query
- Customer Acquisition - Targeted Prospects: Search is demand-driven, so anybody referred from a search engine is hoping that your web page matches their search query. If it does, and you show them all the information they need to see, they may well become your next customer
- Focus on Web Standards / Accessibility: Designing a website for search is an exercise in designing a best practice website. Search engine crawlers notice errors in your code, so valid code is a must for SEO
- Repeat Business: Customers referred from search engines tend to stick around for longer. Increase customer lifetime revenues via SEO!
- Focus on Unique Content: We are big believers in quality content. Original content. Google loves it too. And so do many SEO experts – the general advice these days is to create subject-specific content on your website, and to categorise and label that content in a way that will deliver a boost to your keyword strategy
- Credibility / Brand Perception: "Why aren't you in Google for 'car insurance'?" Consumers expect big brand businesses to be prominently placed in Google, so what is the effect if you aren't on the first page or two?
- Findability: Search engines allow you to find relevant web pages even if you only remember snippets of information. A song lyric, a company name, a product review, a person...

SOCIAL MEDIA MARKETING

OVERVIEW

Social Media Marketing programs usually center on efforts to create content that attracts attention and encourages readers to share it with their social networks. A corporate message spreads from user to user and presumably resonates because it appears to come from a trusted, third-party source, as opposed to the brand or company itself. Hence, this form of marketing is driven by word-of-mouth, meaning it results in earned media rather than paid media

Social Media Marketing is all about building relationships. But more importantly, it is about building a community made up of relationships with the right people – your target audience. Moreover, the real value in Social Media comes from solidifying relationships with those members of your target audience who have the most reach and influence.

KEY APPROACH

-  Defining the goal
-  Selecting the target audience
-  Developing the right message
-  Selecting the right channel
-  Set-up, design and develop the channel
-  Building a community
-  Content Distribution Strategy
-  Engaging and monitoring the audience
-  Measuring Performance
-  Rinse & Repeat

BUSINESS BENEFITS

-  Establish a Brand and Raise Awareness: Since the majority of the population is already visiting social media sites like Facebook, Twitter and YouTube, getting your brand name all over those networks can help let people know that you're around
-  Spy on the Competition: Follow your competitors on Twitter and Facebook and you'll be able to see what they have up their sleeve
-  Pitch Products in a More Human, Interactive Way: Since people visit social media sites to get personal rather than be bombarded with ads, discuss your business in a fun way and engage your customers with questions
-  Bring Attention to Your Products: Featuring a product on a social media site is one of the fastest ways to bring attention to it. Offer a promotion along with it for your online community members and watch your sales skyrocket
-  Increase Customer Loyalty And Trust: Speaking to your customers in a personal way will make them feel like they are talking to a friend, not a company
-  Listen to Your Customer's Opinion: Social media sites are an awesome way to see what your target audience is saying about your company or your products
-  Conduct Market Research: Listen to what your customers say about your products and track what links they click on and you'll begin to see what your customers like and respond to
-  Strengthen Customer Service: Social media networks allow your company to answer your customers' questions and concerns directly in a timely manner
-  Free Job Portal: Jobs are posted every minute on social networks like LinkedIn and Twitter along with the links or information you need to apply for them
-  Establish Yourself as an Expert: Social networks allow you to get your name out to the world and talk about things that matter to you
-  Share Information with Like-Minded Customer: Connect with other professionals in your field to share information
-  Reach Mobile: Many active social media users are constantly plugged in via their smartphones. It is ideal to reach them with your message when they are on the go

PPC advertising revolutionized the online advertising industry, and today, advertising generates 99% of Google's revenue. Google's revenue for the quarter ended March 31, 2012 was $10.65 billion! And that figure continues to increase.

LOCAL BUSINESS LISTING

OVERVIEW

Local listings are online directories of businesses that serve a specific geographical region, such as a city or county. Local listings help prospective customers find what they need in their area, so if you serve a particular locale, you'll want to make sure your business is listed. Local Business Listings are usually those listings that appear at the top of Search Engine results and supply Search Engine users with results within their locality. These listings are especially attractive as they are more likely to generate business for your organization due to the accessibility of your business and the proximity of the results.

Local Business Listings are yet another strategy to help get you the coveted traffic you require and position your website attractively to the most relevant Search Engine users interested in your website. Most local listings and city guides group businesses by category and display each business's name, contact information, and optional details like web site, opening hours, payment methods accepted, and more.

Submitting your local business to a local business directory has become very important since more and more internet users are now searching for products and services online and not making use of their telephone directories anymore. A good directory listing must contain the physical address of the business, contact numbers and the website URL if permitted in order to increase exposure of the business. This will enable directory users to find useful information from your listing to facilitate a contact with your business, without requiring additional information.
