Community gathers for Memorial Day

Photos and Article By Traci Little

Despite early morning misty skies, residents gathered Monday morning for the 2026 Mansfield Memorial Day Parade to honor the men and women who gave their lives in service to the nation.

The annual parade stepped off at 10 am from Reba Avenue and made its way through Mansfield before concluding at the Veterans Honor Grounds at Mansfield Cemetery, where a Memorial Day service followed. Families, veterans, and community members lined the parade route waving American flags and showing support for those who served.

Veterans organizations, first responders, marching bands, civic groups and local leaders participated in the procession, helping create a patriotic atmosphere focused on remembrance and gratitude. The parade traveled north on Main Street and east on Chestnut Street before entering the cemetery grounds.

Memorial Day weekend observances also included the placing of flags on veterans' graves at Mansfield Cemetery and the Avenue of Flags Ceremony at Mansfield Memorial Park. Both events were coordinated by the Richland County Veterans Service Commission and supported by volunteers from across the community.

Throughout the weekend, volunteers and attendees reflected on the meaning of Memorial Day and the importance of remembering those who made the ultimate sacrifice for their country.

THE ENTERTAINMENT EXAMINER

— By Ian Stumbo —

The Mandalorian has been a big hit on Disney+ having completed a few well received seasons. Now, the show comes to the big screen in The Mandalorian and Grogu.

The Mandalorian (Pedro Pascal) and his sidekick Grogu are fighting battles for the New Republic trying to keep the fledgling Empire at bay.

Under the watchful eye of Ward (Sigourney Weaver), the bounty hunter is tasked with returning Jabba's the Hutt's kidnapped son Rotta (voiced by Jeremy Allen White) to his family. Through many adventures and misfires, the Mandalorian and Grogu go from galaxy to galaxy to fulfill their duties.

The main issue with this movie is it feels like a two hour episode of the television show. There are a few engaging fight scenes but the other ones don't go on long enough to really get into. Grogu is cute and funny as always though it feels like the Mandalorian needs another human sidekick to play off of.

The character of Rotta is predominately featured though I did not care very much about his character. The plot for most of the movie does not sustain a feature film length and there is a bit of filler.

As a lifelong Star Wars fan I was looking forward to this movie, though The Mandalorian and Grogu suffers from an uninteresting plot, lots of filler moments and a movie that would be more at home on Disney+ than the big screen.

Robert A. Carter

Robert Allen Carter, 90, of Mansfield, Ohio, passed away on May 20, 2026. Born on December 29, 1935, in Mansfield to Robert Harvey Carter and Norma (Russell) Carter, Bob grew up in Lexington, where his curiosity, humor, and deep love of local history first took root.

He spent his early childhood living in the house next to the entrance of Lexington Cemetery. He rode his bike through the cemetery paths, played amongst the gravestones, talked with the workers, and learned to see stories everywhere. Now he returns home to rest beside the place where his story began, marked by a millstone in honor of the gristmills he so loved and spent a lifetime researching.

Bob's early years were filled with adventure — helping on his grandparents' farm and learning life lessons from the colorful characters who shaped his youth. He often said his love of history began by listening to old-timers tell stories while he tagged along with his grandfather. Those stories would eventually inspire a lifelong passion for preserving the past.

A 1954 graduate of Lexington High School, Bob worked for Carter Electric, the family business, where he became a skilled electrician and later an estimator. His work took him to schools, hospitals, churches, and public buildings across Ohio — many of which he later watched be torn down, joking that it was the surest sign he was getting old.

On August 31, 1957, Bob married Jackie, the love of his life, after what he called "the most expensive cheeseburgers I ever bought." Together they built a family, a home, and a partnership that lasted more than six decades. They raised five children and Bob often said that if your kids turn out alright, nothing else in life really matters.

Bob was a devoted father, Scout leader, volunteer firefighter, and community historian. He volunteered for Habitat for Humanity and after retirement, delivered meals to the elderly and infirm. His thirteen years as Scoutmaster of Troop 131 became legendary, especially after he helped the troop build a full-scale working cannon for the Bicentennial celebrations. He led boys on adventures across Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Canada, and beyond — teaching them resilience, responsibility, and the joy of a good story.

His passion for local history led him to write several books, including Tales of the Old-Timers: The History of Lexington, The Mansfield Riots of 1900, and Tom Lyons. He was a long-time contributor of historical narratives to both the Tribune-Courier and the Mansfield News Journal. His research preserved countless stories that would otherwise have been lost, and his work remains a treasured part of Richland County's historical record and North Central Ohio Industrial Museum.

Bob's life was also shaped by his love of railroads, his years of hard work as an electrician, his dedication to the Lexington Church of the Cross, and his deep affection for the many dogs, friends, and neighbors who filled his days. He never lost his sense of humor, his curiosity, or his appreciation for a good story — especially one with a little mischief.

He was preceded in death by his brother, David "Pete" Carter. He is survived by his beloved wife, Jacqueline (Treisch) Carter; children Jeffrey (Laura) Carter, George "Greg" (Jennifer) Carter, Ann Carter, Amy (Tom) Hess, and Robert (Jennifer) Carter; brother Richard "Dick" Carter; sister Mary Carter Raines; grandchildren Allie, Jacob, Avery, Austin, Carter, Mitchell, Sophia, Henry, Amelia, Melody; great-grandchildren Ella June, Thomas, Liam; and a lifetime of friends, Scouts, and neighbors who will forever remember his generosity, wit, and the way he made history come alive.

Funeral services celebrating the life of Robert A. "Bob" Carter, will begin at 11 am, Saturday May 30, 2026, at Lexington Church of the Cross, 236 Otterbein Drive, Lexington, Ohio 44904 where his visitation will be from 10-11 am. Burial will follow in Lexington Cemetery.

The Lexington Avenue Snyder Funeral Home is honored to assist the Carter family with services. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Lexington Church of the Cross.

Bob often reflected on his great-great-grandfather, who came to Ohio in 1815 to clear land and build a home for his family. "He made it," Bob wrote. "I had it easy." But those who knew him would say that Bob built something just as enduring — a legacy of family, community, and stories that will be told for generations.

Ontario community sale will benefit local family in need of wheelchair van

An Ontario community is coming together this weekend to support a local family in need of a wheelchair-accessible van through a large fundraising community sale.

Friends, family members and church supporters have donated hundreds of items for the sale, with organizers saying 100 percent of the proceeds will go toward helping purchase the much needed wheelchair vehicle for Jeff and Joni Davis and their family.

The event is being described as a "pickers market" featuring a wide variety of items including vintage and antique pieces, jewelry, indoor and outdoor furniture, household items, children's outdoor play equipment, seasonal décor, and more. Organizers also say some items are brand new with tags still attached.

One featured item includes a nearly new power wheelchair that will be sold along with extra batteries and accessories.

The fundraiser sale will take place Saturday, May 30, and Sunday, May 31, from 9 am to 4 pm at 409 Sherwood Ct., in Ontario, located off Rosewood Drive. Organizers ask that there be no early sales.

Community members are encouraged to attend, shop and help support the family while finding bargains along the way.

Avita Health System recognizes nurses with DAISY Awards

Three registered nurses at Avita Health System were honored with The DAISY Award for Extraordinary Nurses® during Nurses Week. The award is part of The DAISY Foundation’s mission to recognize nurses for the compassionate care they provide to patients and families every day.

This year’s DAISY Award recipients are Janet Heydinger, RN of Galion Hospital; Andrea “Andi” Evans, RN of Bucyrus Hospital; and Andrea Roberts, RN of Ontario Hospital.

Janet Heydinger works in the Emergency Department at Galion Hospital. She was nominated by a patient and her husband for the care and compassion she showed during a miscarriage.

“My wife was in the ER...she was having a hard time. Janet...was able to sympathize with her. She showed that she cared and didn’t mind the number of times we asked questions,” the patient’s husband shared.

The patient added, “There are no words to describe how grateful I am for her care. She made the whole ordeal much easier for me to handle.”

Andrea “Andi” Evans is a shift supervisor in the Emergency Department at Bucyrus Hospital. She was nominated by a colleague for the care she provided to a fellow team member in crisis.

According to the nominator, Andi noticed a coworker struggling and took the time to step in, listen, and support her. “Her actions went far beyond her duties as a nurse...Andi’s vigilance and kindness may have saved a life, and she exemplifies what nursing is all about.”

Andrea Roberts works in the Intensive Care Unit at Ontario Hospital. She was nominated by a colleague for her commitment to patient-centered care.

“When I spoke with Andrea, she immediately looked into how to better coordinate lab draws so the patient wouldn’t have to be stuck multiple times,” the nominator shared. “Putting patient care above all... that is amazing patient care, and we all appreciate her more than words can explain.”

In addition to the individual honorees, several special DAISY recognitions were presented.

Aimee McKenzie, BSN, RN, Director of the Education and Training Center at Avita Health System, received the DAISY Educator Award. One team member shared, “Because of Aimee’s leadership, nurses and students are better prepared, teams are stronger, and the ripple effect is felt where it matters most...in the care our patients receive.”

The DAISY Team Award was presented to the Intensive Care Unit staff at Ontario Hospital. The team was nominated by families in recognition of the care and support they provided during difficult moments. “My family and I want to express our sincere gratitude... In one of the hardest moments of our lives, you cared for my brother with dignity and cared for us with compassion,” one family member wrote.

Sarah Konves, BSN, RN, Nurse Manager of the Medical-Surgical Unit and ICU at Ontario Hospital, received the DAISY Nurse Leader Award. She was nominated for her advocacy and leadership in supporting an employee through a critical health situation.

The DAISY Foundation is a not-for-profit organization established in memory of J. Patrick Barnes, who died at age 33 from complications of an autoimmune disease. The compassionate care he and his family received from nurses inspired this recognition program to thank nurses who make a lasting difference in the lives of others.

“We love this time of year when we can pause to recognize our nurses,” said Kathy Durlinger, Chief Nursing Officer at Avita Health System. “These nurses and nurse leaders make a lasting impact on patients and families and help guide the next generation of caregivers. They embody our mission to provide quality care to the communities we serve.”

Nurses at Avita Health System can be nominated by patients, families, and colleagues by filling out a form online at avitahealth.org/daisy-award or at any of Avita’s hospital locations. Award recipients are selected anonymously by a committee of employees and community members based on specific criteria.

Awards are presented throughout the year at celebrations attended by colleagues, patients, and visitors. Honorees receive a certificate, a DAISY Award pin, and a hand-carved sculpture called “A Healer’s Touch.”

Reality Store helps Madison Middle School students explore careers and finances

Photos and Article By Traci Little

Madison Middle School students recently received a hands-on lesson in real-world finances and career exploration during the school's annual Reality Store and Career Day held on May 21. The interactive event gave students the opportunity to experience how education, career choices, salaries, and everyday expenses all work together in adult life.

Throughout the morning, community volunteers shared insight into a variety of career pathways, offering students a glimpse into the skills, education, and experiences connected to professions across the region. Volunteers discussed their personal journeys, daily responsibilities, and the characteristics that can help students succeed in different career fields. The presentations encouraged students to begin thinking about future goals while learning how their strengths and interests can connect to some of their career interests.

In the gymnasium, students participated in the highly engaging "Reality Store" simulation. Each student was assigned a career and monthly income before entering the event. From there, they navigated a series of stations representing common life expenses such as housing, transportation, food, childcare, entertainment, insurance, clothing, and more. As students made financial decisions, volunteers helped them balance their budgets, track expenses in check-book registers, and understand how debt, loans, and lifestyle choices can impact financial stability.

The simulation quickly became both educational and entertaining as students worked through real-life budgeting challenges. Some learned that higher-paying careers can still come with financial pressures, while others discovered the importance of prioritizing needs over wants. The event also included fun elements, such as officers issuing humorous "citations" for speeding, horseplay, or driving without insurance, adding energy and excitement to the experience.

Students who completed all stations also had the opportunity to visit student-led career tech tables to learn more about programs available through high school career technical education pathways.

The success of the Reality Store and Career Day was made possible through the support of local volunteers who dedicated their time to investing in the future of Madison Middle School students. Their willingness to share knowledge, experiences, and encouragement helped create a memorable day filled with practical life lessons and inspiration for the future.

By combining career exploration with real-world financial decision-making, Madison Middle School continues to provide students with meaningful experiences that help prepare them for life beyond the classroom.

Clear Fork Lady Colts advance to regional semi-finals

By Kris Leiter

The Clear Fork Lady Colts (23-7, 9-5, fourth MOAC) claimed the district final victory over Lima Bath (15-10, 14-10 sixth Western Buckeye Conference) by the score of 19-2 on May 22.

The Lady Colts ended things in fine fashion, implementing the five-inning mercy rule.

I noted some unique things about the Lady Colts team after talking to head coach Adam Brokaw, a 2000 Clear Fork graduate.

Brokaw, in only his second year at the helm, said they don't have any seniors on their roster. This is a bigger deal when you consider their presence going deep into the tournament trail over the past two seasons.

They have had phenomenal success with a mix of players, ranging from freshmen to juniors. A lot of teams that journey into the latter parts of the post-season are loaded with seniors as the norm. That says a lot about the talent in the Valley.

"Our freshmen in 2024, who are now juniors, lost in district finals to Lexington, who had a stud pitcher, Mackaree Chapman (junior 2024).

"Last year (2025) we were 16-11. We lost in district finals to Lexington again and senior pitcher Mackaree Chapman helped Lex make it to the state final four last year."

The second unique feature is using the five-inning mercy rule which can be considered a rarity in post-season play.

Even more noteworthy is that Clear Fork put up 16 runs in a single inning. The fact that they did this in a district title game against a highly-seeded tournament team speaks to an explosive, elite offense and tremendous plate discipline.

As the team works their strategy for post-season play, coach Brokaw said, "I'm trying to give the girls as much info I can about their pitchers and their hitters. We like to put them in good situations to succeed."

Starting the first inning with those 16 runs was an incredible beginning and credit needs to go to both the Colt's pitching and defense!

Colt's phenom pitcher Miley Schafer would kick things off to start the game and keep Bath at bay, not allowing a single run.

Entering the bottom of the first, the Lady Colts brought the lumber to the plate. By the end of the first inning, the Colts had batted through their entire line-up twice and then a few more for a total of 21 at-bats! The Colts scored nine runs before they would get their first out!

In the first inning alone, the Lady Colts notched six singles by Jada Brokaw, Mya Perry, Presley Lily, Karlynn Mortimer, Braylee Wenger and Kylie Ludwig. Three doubles came from Millie Chamberlain (1) and Chloe Steward (2). Hailly Thrush had a home run and four walks came from Jada Brokaw, Hailly Thrush, Karlynn Mortimer and Braylee Wenger. After one inning of play, they had an 84 percent of their total runs.

"We went out to the field the top half of the inning and we got out of it. Then we got our lead-off runner on base in the bottom of the inning," said Brokaw. "We bunted her Jada Brokaw to second base, got another base hit by Perry and scored both of those runners with Lilly. We just kept rolling."

The second inning, things got quiet for both teams, as Bath would score their first run of the game. The Lady Kittens would hold Clear Fork scoreless for the inning.

During the third inning, the Colts brought around two more tallies by Brokaw and Wenger, adding to the previous 16 runs. The Lady Colts would lead 18-1 after three innings of play.

Both teams entered on run in the fourth inning. Lady Colt Hailly Thrush would cross home plate for Clear Fork. After four innings of play, the Colts were leading 19-2.

Bring on the fifth and final inning! The Colts brought in pitcher Mariah Hatfield, as she would continue to be on-point and close out the game holding Bath scoreless again.

Batting for Clear Fork were Chloe Steward: 2-3, three RBIs, two doubles; Presley Lily, 2-4, four RBIs, one run; Hailly Thrush, 1-3, two RBIs, one home run, one stolen base; and Kylie Ludwig, 1-3, two RBIs.

Pitching for the Colts were Miley Schafer (winning pitcher), four innings pitched, one strikeout, 54 pitches, 38 strikes; and Mariah Hatfield, one inning pitched, 15 pitches, 9 strikes.

The Colts' victory will move them into the regional semi-finals, facing the Bryan Lady Golden Bears from the Northwest region of the state.

The Lady Bears are no strangers to winning, as they will be sporting their undefeated record of 21-0.

Commenting on their competition, coach Brokaw said, "They have a senior stud pitcher. She's going to Division I North Carolina State. Two years ago, when she was a sophomore, she was part of their state runner-up team."

"Last year, they lost to Lexington in regional finals 6-1. We are going to face a good pitcher."

As for Brokaw's strategy, "We want to try to limit our strikeouts. We're going to hopefully get some base runners on and make some things happen."

The Lady Bears have notched 16 shutouts during the regular season and eight games of scoring in double-digits. Rest assured, they have the bats to produce the round-trippers.

They have also staked their claim as the Northwest Ohio Athletic Conference victors with a first place, unblemished 7-0 conference record!

The showcase showdown will take place at the neutral site of Clyde High School on Wednesday, May 27, at 2 pm.

Whippets baseball claims sectional title over Clear Fork

By Kris Leiter

As they say, the third time is the charm. Two fierce Mid-Ohio Athletic Conference teams, Shelby and Clear Fork, took to the field for the third time this season playing for the Division IV sectional title.

The Shelby Whippets came away with the 8-3 win on a damp Wednesday evening at the beautiful Whippet Athletic Complex.

Head coach Jonathon Amicone, a 2002 Shelby graduate, is in his 12th year manning the helm for the Whippets. He was thrilled with the victory.

"We had two good games with Clear Fork this season and we split with them. This was a series-clenching game for both teams, so I know both teams really wanted it."

In the first inning, the Clear Fork Colts lead-off batter, Perry, tallied the first single of the game. He would continue the momentum by stealing second base, eventually scoring the first run of the game.

Shelby's phenom pitcher Kaleb Stairs, with 37 strikeouts on the year, retired the side quickly by putting out the next three Colts batters: Brokaw, Bias and Sharp. They would fall victim to Shelby's solid defense, keeping the ball within the infield.

"We worked extremely fast and got a lot of good ground balls for our guys," said Amicone. "We played a really clean game. Defensively, no errors were made."

It was now the Colts turn to return the favor, only needing four batters as well to notch three outs by the Colts defense. The Whippets would draw two walks by lead-off batter Brady Bowman, followed by Quentin Albert, last year's District Player of the Year. Bowman would be the first out on the attempted steal.

The Colts would put down the next two Whippet batters, Dorsey and Stairs. Dorsey would be out number two, getting caught looking with a no-look strikeout, Stairs would be out number three on a ground ball. After one complete inning, the Colts were leading 1-0.

As the second inning would begin, The Colts offense would keep Shelby's defense busy. Colts Crunkilton led off with a single. He would eventually notch run number two.

Again, Stair's pitching would tally two strikeouts in the inning, putting down Colt's swinging, for out number two. The third out would be Stairs delivering lead-off batter Perry with a no-look strikeout to end the second inning.

At the top of the third, Clear Fork was back at the plate. Shelby claimed the top of the third as their own by pitching a shutout inning on the Colts.

Clear Fork's Brokaw would ground-out for out number one. Followed by Bias notching a single to right-field. The next two batters, Sharp and Crunkilton (batting .273 this year), would both fly out, Bias to the pitcher and Crunkilton to the first-basemen for outs two and three. It was Shelby's Kaleb Stairs and the Whippet defense that would dominate, and I mean dominate, needing four batters to end the inning!

"We wanted to focus on playing the Shelby way, which is really good defense, playing the strike zone and with productive at-bats," said Amicone.

In the bottom of the third inning, Colt's pitcher Schumacher, sporting a 2.40 ERA, would have Shelby down two outs on the first two batters, Dorsey and Stairs, Dorsey grounding-out followed by Stairs with a flyout.

Shelby would relish the pressure of the two-out rally!

The Whippets exploded for four runs and batted through the entire order! Enter Sloane for the Whippets. He would walk to first and score from Colts pitching. Schumacher struggle from the mound, hitting two batters, Fisher and Hartz, allowing a stolen base and walk by Koch making the tie 2-2.

Lykins would then score run number three on a walk to give Shelby the 3-2 lead. Fisher scored run number four on wild pitches and a walk. For Shelby's fifth run, Koch drew the walk.

Amicone commented, "We try to put the ball in play, playing small ball by bunting, hit-and-run, stealing bases. That's the sort of things you got to do."

At the end of the third, Shelby led 5-2 after a shutout inning.

As the Colts returned to the plate in the fourth, the Whippets brought in Ball to pitch to hold the Colts offense at bay. Shelby would have a little breathing room, heading into the halfway mark of this nail-biter. Clear Fork's Domka started things off with double to deep-right.

It was time for Clear Fork pitcher, Ball, and Shelby's defense to go to work and they did just that! The Whippets wasted no time, as the next three batters would merit three outs. A fly-out by Rahall and two ground-outs by Schmit and Slaughter would end the inning with Shelby still holding the narrow lead, 5-2.

Dorsey began the fifth with a walk and the Colts pitching would open the door a bit wider for the Whippets. Dorsey notched another run from a stolen base and error by the Colts. Shelby added another round-tripper to their tally, leading 6-2. Shelby exited the inning with the next four batters, but enough to open the lead a bit more.

The Colts returned to the plate hoping to close the four-run lead by the Whippets. By now, Shelby pitcher Stairs was in fine form. He shut down the first three batters — two ground-outs by Perry and Brokaw and one fly-out by Bias. The Whippets were holding, 6-2!

"I think Kaleb Stairs only had three strikeouts, but he didn't walk anyone," said Amicone.

Shelby's Koch and Gray would each notch a single — Koch to shallow right-center and Gray up the middle. They would score runs 7 and 8 increasing Shelby's lead 8-2. Clear Fork had two at-bats remaining. Would they catch the Whippets?

Colt's leading batter Sharp notched a single to right field to start the sixth inning. He would eventually score run number three.

Shelby's defense continued to hold their own as they took three more outs with next three batters, Crunkilton, Domka and Rahall, Shelby holding, 8-3.

The Whippets came to bat at the bottom of the sixth. They struggled a bit as the Colts' Ball would bring the heat. Clear Fork would retire the side in only four batters, notching two strikeouts on Koch and Hartz.

Entering the seventh and final inning, Stairs and the Whippet defense would seal the deal and send the first three batters back to the dugout.

This was a big win in the series between the Colts and Shelby as the Whippets move on to the district semifinals!

Pleased with the efforts of his team, Amicone said, "If your pitchers throw a lot of strikes and your defense is playing error-free baseball, it will give you a good chance to win. They worked extremely hard. They're really good kids."

Shelby's batting showed Domka: 3-3, 1 RBI; Sharp, 2-3, 1 RBI; and Rahall, 1-3. Pitching stats came from Stairs, seven innings pitched, 28 batters faced, 91 pitches, 59 strikes and three strike outs.

The Whippets will be facing a familiar opponent, the Bellevue Redmen, the two-seed on Wednesday, May 27 in the district semifinals at Willard High School at 4:30 pm.

Both schools are former members and rivals of the Northern Ohio League from years gone by. Amicone is familiar with their program and expects a good game from the Redmen.

"Bellevue has a really good baseball program," said Amicone. "Their head coach is Andy Dennings. He does a tremendous job for their program."

Amicone has no doubt they will come prepared, as they usually play each other during the regular season as well. I asked Amicone about the neutral site and whether that would play into the preparation, not being on their home turf at Shelby.

"Willard is a turf infield, which we have at Shelby. We have to play the same way we've always played."

I asked him if Bellevue's seeding has an effect on Shelby's game plan.

"They were a two-seed in our district. Their pitchers can take them a long way. I think we have to be very efficient with our pitching as well."
